Course Descriptions

Undergraduate

DTH 530 – Mariology

This course examines Marian doctrine in its scriptural, historical, and modern context using the infallible statements, Lumen Gentium and the post-conciliar documents.

ENG 115 – Writing and Composition

This course is designed to give students the knowledge and skills necessary to compose college-level academic papers. It will begin with instruction in grammar, paragraph structure, and other foundational skills. Students will then gain experience writing autobiographical essays, theological reflections, and a research paper. Assignments will be tailored to students' abilities.

ENG 151 – Drama

This course surveys Western dramatists from Ancient Greece to the modern day. Dramas by, but not exclusive to, the following will be studied: Sophocles, Moliere, Ibsen, Lorca, and Williams. Students also will write and present either a one-act play or an analysis of a classic drama.

HIS 102 – Western Civilization II

This course continues the study of Western Civilization: the Hundred Years' War as nations fought to restore a united Christendom, the Enlightenment, the revolutions in France and America, the Napoleonic Age, the two world wars, Vatican II, and into the present day.

HUM 531 – The Greatest Composers and Symphonic Music of All Time

This course will emphasize the personal lives and music of the great composers beginning with the middle to high Baroque of Vivaldi, Handel and Bach and continuing with the music of Mozart, Beethoven, Berlioz, Brahms, etc.

LAT 202 – Latin II

This course builds on Latin I and familiarizes the student with the majority of Latin grammar and a significant amount of theological and philosophical Latin vocabulary. It is the second of three courses designed to give the student the skills to read modern ecclesiastical Latin.

LLT 300 – Introduction to Liturgy

This course explains that all theology is derived from the sacred Liturgy, the heart of Catholic faith and life. It will look at Liturgy as the starting point and the greatest teacher, opening to the mysteries of the Catholic faith.

MTH 300 – Introduction to Moral Theology

This course introduces the foundational concepts of Catholic moral theology, and seeks to provide a mastery of the questions: What is moral theology? What are its underlying precepts? How can we use these to help ourselves and others lead a moral life?

PAS 162 – Catechism II

This course presents an overview of the Catechism of the Catholic Church. Students study parts three and four of the Catechism, “Life in Christ” and “Christian Prayer,” to grasp its presentation of truth in the light of Vatican Council II.

PHE 422 – Christian Social Ethics

This course is an application of basic Christian principles to the political, economic and social spheres. It includes analysis of questions of wealth and poverty, cultural development, war and peace, and Christian involvement in government.

PHH 304 – History of Medieval Philosophy

This course studies the most representative thinkers, beginning with St. Augustine and Boethius and ending with St. Albert the Great, St. Bonaventure, and St. Thomas Aquinas.

PHH 404 – History of Contemporary Philosophy

This course examines the views of various contemporary philosophers on issues in ethics, epistemology, metaphysics, and other areas of philosophy.

PHS 414 – Epistemology

This course gives an insight into classical answers to Aristotelian, Socratic, and Platonic questions and give students the tools to devise their own responses.

PHS 415 – Philosophy of God (Pre-Req: PHS 551 or PHS 530 or PHS 450)

Natural Theology, the highest of the sciences, is the reasoned, philosophical study of the existence of God and His attributes. In this course, we will begin by exploring various types of atheism and then move on to the study of St. Thomas' famous Five Ways for proving God's existence. Next we will learn about the various Divine Attributes which one can discover by reason alone, and finally, students will demonstrate their understanding of the topics covered in this course by developing a presentation on a book relating to theism and the challenges of atheism.

PHS 422 – Philosophy of Nature and ScienceSAS 460 – Luke and the Acts of the Apostles

The Gospels are the heart of all the Scriptures because they are our principal source for the life and teaching of the Incarnate Word, our Savior. This course is an exegetical survey of the Gospel of Luke and of the Acts of the Apostles. By using the Historical-Critical Methods as well as the Literary-Rhetorical Methods, we seek to equipping students with the necessary tools to exegete these Scriptures for use in preaching, teaching and in pastoral ministry.

SCM 105 – Nature of Math

Graduate

CHH/DTH 680 – Vatican II: History, Documents, and Reception

CLA 715 – Canon Law II

This course includes a thorough study of the canon law of marriage

DTH 530 – Mariology

This course examines Marian doctrine in its scriptural, historical, and modern context using the infallible statements, Lumen Gentium and the post-conciliar documents.

DTH 642 – John Paul II: Life, Spirituality, and Philosophy

This course will sketch the life, spirituality, and philosophy of Saint John Paul II, as foundational to his teaching and mission as Pope. The course will survey Saint John Paul II's own poetry, plays, and philosophical works, as well as biographical and autobiographical writings.

DTH 751 – Christology (Pre-Req: DTH 731)

This course considers the person of Jesus Christ and the theology of the Incarnation, with particular attention to the development of Christological doctrine and to the theology of Thomas Aquinas. One & Triune God is a pre-requisite to this course.

DTH 758 – Ecclesiology

HUM 531 – The Greatest Composers and Symphonic Music of All Time

This course will emphasize the personal lives and music of the great composers beginning with the middle to high Baroque of Vivaldi, Handel and Bach and continuing with the music of Mozart, Beethoven, Berlioz, Brahms, etc.

MTH 841 – Catholic Social Teaching

This course traces major themes in Catholic social teachings by using the U.S. Bishop's document, Sharing Catholic Social Teaching: Challenges and Directions and includes topics therein.

PHS 630 – Philosophy of Personalism I

This course will concentrate on the person: Structure, Self-determination and Relation, engaging in the study of various classic philosophical writings and other texts contributing to the rich development of the notion of the human person in today's theology.

SAS 657 – Luke and the Acts of the Apostles

The Gospels are the heart of all the Scriptures because they are our principal source for the life and teaching of the Incarnate Word, our Savior. This course is an exegetical survey of the Gospel of Luke and of the Acts of the Apostles. By using the Historical-Critical Methods as well as the Literary-Rhetorical Methods, we seek to equipping students with the necessary tools to exegete these Scriptures for use in preaching, teaching and in pastoral ministry.

SAS 621 – Prophetic Literature

This course examines the phenomenon of prophecy in Israel, and surveys early “non-writing” prophets, and classical prophets in their historical contexts to uncover their theological message and understand the development of prophecy into eschatology and apocalyptic.
